

Write the numbers 1-5 down the left margin of your page (double-space). For each sentence below, add details and descriptive words (adjectives and adverbs are a good place to start) to make the sentence more vivid. Your goal is to turn the five boring sentences below into an interesting paragraph.

1. It was morning.
2. John got out of bed, got dressed, and went downstairs.
3. He had breakfast.
4. He walked to school; he took a shortcut through the graveyard.
5. He arrived at school late.
