Anglophone School Districts
STUDENT APPRECIATION DAY

June 8, 2021

Dear Students, Parents and Guardians,

On Wednesday, June 9 and Thursday, June 10, 2021, over 200 schools in the four Anglophone School Districts across New Brunswick will celebrate the first-ever province-wide Student Appreciation Days. The celebration has been planned over two days to accommodate the schools currently using the blended learning model (learning one day at home and one day at school); however, some schools may be celebrating at a different time due to Covid-19 closures or for other operational reasons.

In a year like no other, students in New Brunswick and across our country have risen to the challenge and continued learning, growing, and doing great things. They have demonstrated their resiliency by wearing masks, being apart from friends, adapting to online learning, social distancing, missing out on sports and extra-curricular activities, and so much more. This celebration is to show appreciation and gratitude for all they have done.

A lot of planning has happened behind the scenes to make these days unforgettable for our almost 70,000 Kindergarten to Grade 12 students in the Anglophone school system. Posters and stickers were delivered to every school in advance, and students will be receiving video messages on these days from some very special Canadians. Schools will be sharing their special events on these days on social media using the hashtag #NBStudentAppreciationDay.

We also want to extend our gratitude to parents and guardians for modelling kindness and patience during these times and being positive role models for your children. Student Appreciation Day is our way of showing appreciation to all for navigating a school year like no other.

Sincerely,

Your School Staff and District Office Staff
