

International Student / Icaro Loves Canada!

What can I say about Canada? Simple: best country ever! It may sound kind of weird to you, but when you live in a country like Brazil and travel to a country like Canada, the differences are huge. My experience in this country was simply wonderful. I can not describe everything that happened to me. All the experiences, all the people I've met, all the places I've visited ... All of this has been and will always be of great importance to me.

I had the opportunity to meet new places that you can not find in my country. I had my first winter. I've seen the snow for the first time, and even if it sounds like something common to you, it's magical for me. I watched as the trees look beautiful in the fall, and how Canadian weather can be crazy. I went trick-or-treating, I had my first Thanksgiving, my first Remembrance Day, which is something we do not have in Brazil, since we never went to war. I did almost all the winter activities I could do, including skiing (which is very difficult). I met wonderful people, from the relatives of my host family to the teachers and my friends. Leaving Brazil and going to Canada was one of the best things that happened in my life, and I hope to return to this country in a few years.

Thank you all for being so friendly not only to me but to all the international students who already came to Canada, who are still there and those who will come. Thank you for supporting us in everything we wanted. And above all, thank you for welcoming us to this beautiful country called Canada.
