Conflict vs. Bullying

Department of Education and Early Childhood Development

Conflict is:

- occasional
- uncomfortable but is not intended to hurt
- when there is no power imbalance between the people involved
- when there is an effort to solve the problem
- · a normal part of human interaction
- can be worked through by the individuals involved

Bullying is:

- · often repeated
- · intended to hurt
- when there is a power imbalance between the people involved
- when there is no effort to solve the problem by the person who bullied
- · a part of unhealthy relationships
- should always be reported to school staff
