Investing in People – Investing in Community

Summer Job Opportunity

Do you want to work in an enterprising organization?

The Saint John Community Loan Fund is looking for an exceptional college or university student who will be returning to school in the fall to fill an important role with the organization this summer.

The Job – Website Design and Marketing

The Saint John Community Loan Fund has been operating with a basic website for the past few years that is now pretty clunky. We need to bring it into the future with an interactive feel, where financial tools can be clicked and used, where you can view YouTube videos of our successful clients and where investors also tell their stories. We also have a couple of other projects do work on, and both have to do with marketing a product or two.

The successful candidate will know how to create a Wordpress or equivalent website, whether from your educational background or just because you love to do this stuff, or both! You don't mind working in a pretty active place and moving around or working from home on occasion. You like marketing a lot. Perhaps you've run a summer business or worked in your family's. We like individuals who have an entrepreneurial spirit tempered with a great deal of compassion and desire to make the world a better place.

We will provide an enterprising support staff, a laptop and a desk. Plus we will pay you $12.00 per hour, 35 hours per week, for 12 weeks, starting June 4, 2012.

The Saint John Community Loan Fund

The Saint John Community Loan Fund began in 1999 helping people create income, build assets and attain greater self reliance. Today we do this through training, loans, savings and housing. To view more of what we do, please go to www.loanfund.ca
