Dear Parent/Guardian:

This is a follow up to a letter you received in late September about the District Education Council for Anglophone South School District launching a long term, multi-year infrastructure planning process in Saint John. There are currently seven schools in central Saint John (K-8), serving a total population of 1,750 students. Since 2001, that number has declined by 27% and the average age of the seven buildings is 58 years old.

Schools in central Saint John include:

- four K-8 schools (St. John the Baptist/King Edward, Hazen-White/St. Francis, Princess Elizabeth, Prince Charles),
- one K-2 school (M. Gerald Teed Memorial),
- one K-5 school (Centennial), and
- one 3-8 school (Millidgeville North).

As outlined in the Department of Education and Early Childhood Development's Policy 409, the District Education Council is mandated to submit a multi-year infrastructure plan for the district, including facility status reviews, school sustainability studies and major capital priority projects.

To begin that process, a study of central city schools (kindergarten to grade eight) was prepared by Ernst & Young. It recommends one new school (grades 6 to 8) be built, as well as several grade reconfigurations that will optimize district-owned facilities and vacate leased facilities. The full report is available on our website at <http://web1.nbed.nb.ca/sites/asd-s/Pages/welcome.aspx>.

The District Education Council is hosting a series of community meetings to discuss Ernst & Young's recommendations, options, and to outline the process. The first meeting has been held for your school. The second public meetings will allow for interested members of the school community and stakeholders to make a presentation to the DEC. These meetings will begin at 6:30 p.m., according to the following schedule:

- Monday, January 16 – St. John the Baptist/King Edward School
- Wednesday, January 18 – M. Gerald Teed School
- Wednesday, January 25 – Centennial School
- Wednesday, February 1 – Hazen-White/St. Francis School

If you wish to present at the second meeting, please contact our Recording Secretary, Clare Murphy at 658-5325 or clare.murphy@gnb.ca by the day prior to your school meeting. We will ensure everyone has time to speak to us. You are also welcome to write to me at the above address or you can send any comments to the following e-mail: asds.schoolreview@gnb.ca

A third and final public meeting will be scheduled once the full list of first and second meetings have been scheduled. School meeting dates and times will be publicized in the Telegraph Journal, and through the ASD-S Twitter feed.

Please review the full Ernst & Young report found on the ASD-S website, along with the power point presentation used at the first meeting at your school.

We look forward to your participation in the long range planning process.

Yours truly,
