From Mrs. Carhart

As a school staff we had the opportunity to share a day of learning together last Friday. That day of professional learning was focused on school behavior and attendance. We are continuing to focus all year on ways we can positively impact student attendance and improve student behaviors overall.

At Simonds High School we have a student attendance and behavior action plan that we are following. As a school we want to provide as much support as possible to our students while ensuring that our families are both informed and engaged throughout the process. You will notice that teachers will be reaching out more- for both support and celebration! We want our students in class and want them to be on time. We thank you in advance for supporting our continued journey to be our best versions of ourselves!
